VOL. XXVIII SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, SAN MATEO COUNTY, CALIF., FRIDAY, MAY 20, 1921. NO. 20

OPEN BIDS FOR PROPOSED CO. HOSPITAL

AWARDING OF BIDS LAID OVER
TILL JUNE 6; MUCH OPPOSITION TO BUILDING NOW IS SHOWN
ALL OVER COUNTY.

The meeting of the board of county supervisors Monday was attended by a considerable number of people from different parts of San Mateo county, the chief interest in the meeting centering around the opening of bids for the construction of the proposed county hospital. Before the opening of the bids a communication from the San Mateo County Medical Society, urging the building of the hospital, was read, and also a letter from Alvin Hatch and other residents of Halfmoon Bay protesting against the building of the hospital at this time because of the falling market and the prospect of getting better prices later. There were twenty-nine bids received for the work, seven being for the general contract. All bids but the three lowest were rejected. The figures submitted ranged from about $250,000 to $300,000. The lowest on each contract were as follows:

General Contract
Ward & Jones, San Francisco—Brick and artificial stone construction, $195,182. If of reinforced concrete, with plaster, $178,990.
Barrett & Hilp, San Francisco—Brick and artificial stone construction, $211,302. If of reinforced concrete, with plaster, $175,974.
P. F. Riley, San Francisco—Brick and artificial stone construction, $194,990. If of reinforced concrete, with plaster, $183,270.

Plumbing Contract
Turner Company, San Francisco, $22,960.
J. J. McLeod, San Francisco, $22,900.

Electrical Contract
Turner Company, San Francisco, $11,960.
Mark Ryan, Redwood City, $10,500.

Heating and Ventilating
J. F. McGowan, San Mateo, $42,898.
Scott Co., San Francisco, $40,480.

After some discussion the awarding of the contract was laid over until June 6th.

A report was received from the committee, consisting of Supervisors Brown and Hickey and County Engineer George A. Kneese, appointed to investigate the possibility of locating a road along the easterly side of the Southern Pacific Railroad from Beresford to San Bruno for the purpose of relieving the congested traffic on the present highway. The report stated that investigation had shown it would be necessary to construct a total of 9.78 miles of highway. The committee recommended that the surveyor be instructed to proceed with the laying out of the new road, and that with the approval of the location by the board the municipalities of Daly City, San Bruno, Burlingame, San Mateo and Redwood City be invited to meet to consider the securing of rights of way and accomplish the improvement.

The board went on record as endorsing a resolution adopted by the board of supervisors of Tulare county criticizing the State Automobile Association for its activities before the recent session of the state legislature. The automobile association had addressed a communication to the board asking that it give the matter thor-

HALFMOON BAY BOY DROWNED IN POOL

Leslie Terry, aged 14, son of Antone Terry, was drowned at Halfmoon Bay Saturday while bathing in a fresh water pool. Leslie is one of a family of four children, whose mother died about a year ago. The father's work kept him in San Francisco and Oakland most of the time. Leslie lived with his grandmother, Mrs. W. A. Terry, at Halfmoon Bay. The boy went to swim with three companions Saturday and when beyond his depth was seized with cramps. All efforts of his companions to rescue him were futile. An inquest was held Saturday afternoon at Halfmoon Bay.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN KILLED IN TUNNEL

Man Falls or Throws Himself Under Train in Tunnel Wednesday;
Identity Is Puzzle.

An unidentified man was killed Wednesday afternoon by Southern Pacific train No. 55 in the tunnel just north of South San Francisco. How the man came to be on the tracks in the tunnel is not known, but it is supposed he either threw himself or fell off the train, the wheels passing over his body. Nobody had seen the man before the accident, but D. H. Gates, engineer of the train, has stated he believed the man fell or threw himself off the train. He was not seen in the tunnel before the train passed over him. The body is now at the undertaking parlors of Deputy Coroner S. Neri, while an attempt is being made to establish his identity.

The body was mangled beyond recognition. Mr. Neri states that the man was apparently about 35 years of age and of about 200 pounds weight. He was well dressed, but there was nothing in his pockets or about his clothing to assist in his identification except the laundry mark on his collar. An effort is now being made to trace this mark through a San Francisco laundry.

MRS. LEMARD HAS CHARGE OF O. E. S. CHILDREN'S PARTY

Mrs. Ida H. Lemard of 311 California avenue was chairman at a children's party given by Beulah Chapter, O. E. S., in Corinthian Hall, San Francisco, Monday night. Over 100 children were present, and all were presented with caps, balloons, and boxes of candy. An excellent program of piano and violin solos, fancy dancing and singing was given. Mrs. Limard, who is an artist in painting as well as music, having provided a hand-painted basket of flowers for each of the young performers. Two who received baskets were Pauline and Peter Lind, each of whom gave selections on the piano.

O. E. S. CELEBRATES TENTH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

The local lodge, Order of the Eastern Star, celebrated its tenth birthday last Friday evening with a party in which a large number of members participated. A vocal duet was rendered by J. G. Walker and L. G. Hardy and selections by a quartet, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young, Mrs. A. A. Whitten, and L. G. Hardy. District Deputy Grand Matron Mrs. R. S. Chilcott of the peninsula district was present. The evening ended with refreshments.

SUICIDE ATTEMPTED BY SAN BRUNO BOY

Louis Jentsch Becomes Despondent
After Trouble at School.

Residents of San Bruno were shocked late Thursday afternoon of last week when they learned that Louis Jentsch, a schoolboy of that city, had attempted to commit suicide by taking a dose of strychnine. The boy's life was saved by the prompt action of Dr. F. H. Smith, who was notified by the boy's brother. The attempted suicide was caused by young Jentsch's becoming despondent because he thought his school teacher "picked on" him. The boy was recently sent home for the remainder of the school term because of misconduct. Following the lad's being restored by Dr. Smith, pneumonia set in. He is still confined to his home.

MANY ATTEND ENTHUSIASTIC GET-TOGETHER MEETING OF SO. S. F. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Co-operation as the key that would unlock a golden future for the peninsula region, was the gist of the address delivered by Dr. B. M. Rastall at the Chamber of Commerce meeting at the city hall Tuesday night. It was a most enthusiastic gathering, participated in by a large number of the members of the local Chamber of Commerce and by delegations from the San Bruno and Three Cities Chambers. After the main address of the evening, talks were given by local men and by a number of the visitors, all the addresses sounding the need of closer co-operation and shoulder to shoulder work for the advancement of the entire peninsula.

Dr. Rastall, one of the country's foremost industrial and city planning engineers and the man retained by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce to plan and manage its great booster campaign, proved himself thoroughly master of his subject.

"San Francisco is vitally in the advancement of the whole of Central California and especially of the peninsula; Central California, and especially the peninsula, is just as vitally interested in the growth and advancement of San Francisco," was one of his introductory remarks. "Close harmony and shoulder to shoulder work by those interested in the building up of this great area with its unlimited possibilities is the secret for the success of this movement to bring San Francisco and its tributary territory into its own. Success must follow such concerted effort. Your possibilities here are absolutely without limit, but they need development."

Bearing home his point that boosting, advertising, and constant work were the sineqs of success for any community, Dr. Rastall painted pictures of a number of different cities

NEW R. R. COMMISSION ORDER CONSIDERED PARTIAL VICTORY FOR SO. SAN FRANCISCO

Because it believed that in years to come there would be an unbroken industrial area for thirty or forty miles from the center of San Francisco, the Railroad Commission in an order issued Saturday denied the petition of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce that a blanket switching rate be fixed for freight hauls on the Southern Pacific railroad. The decision establishes zones in this prospective industrial area and fixes the switching charges for each zone. The decision is considered a partial victory for the local Chamber, as switching charges were reduced on some hauls.

This new order is the outcome of the famous "switching case," an action brought by the Chamber of Commerce of South San Francisco, in which it was charged that Oakland, San Francisco and Los Angeles had more favorable switching conditions. Extension of the San Francisco yard limits to South San Francisco was asked, also a blanket rate.

The order of the commission establishes at San Francisco six zones—three at 37½ cents a ton, two at 50 cents, and one at 70 cents. The 37½-cent zones are: Elkhorn to Oakdale, 7.4 miles; Valencia street to Bay Shore, 7.1 miles, and Oakdale to South San Francisco, 7.2 miles. The two 50-cent zones extend from Elkhorn to Bay Shore, 9.4 miles, and from Valencia street to South San Francisco, 10.7 miles. The 70-cent zone covers a movement from Elkhorn to South San Francisco, a distance of 13.3 miles.

The present switching charge between San Francisco and South San Francisco is 80 cents per ton. The order of the commission will have the effect of reducing the charge of 37½ cents per ton for movement between South San Francisco and Oakdale avenue, and to 50 cents per ton on all movements between South San Francisco and Valencia street.

TRUSTEES GRANT NEW SOFT DRINK LICENSE

Discussion of Drainage and Meat Inspection Occupy Most of Time
Monday Night.

Another application for a soft drink license in South San Francisco received favorable action at Monday night's meeting of the board of city trustees. The applicant was Cabaniza Ed Johnson (colored), his place of business being a restaurant at 90 Grand avenue. Another application, that of Mrs. E. L. Anderson and C. C. Anderson, for a license for selling soft drinks at Tanforan Hotel, was denied.

Two discussions took up a considerable part of Monday night's meeting, that of the steps best to take to prevent unhealthy meat being sold to local consumers and of how best to drain the low land near the plant of the Pacific Coast Steel Company.

The discussion as to meat was brought up by the fact that a case of trichinosis has appeared in town. This disease is the result of eating meat, usually pork, infected with the trichina worm. Government inspection at all packing plants is designed to condemn animals infected with this or any other disease, but it was pointed out that many animals are being slaughtered and their meat sold locally which have not been through the packing plants. City Attorney Coleberd stated that there was an ordinance, passed in this city eight years ago and never cancelled, which provides for all meat sold here being inspected, either by regularly appointed inspectors or by the health officer of the city. No definite action was taken at this meeting, but it is probable that this ordinance will be reviewed, modifications made to bring it up to date, if any are necessary, and steps taken to enforce it in this city.

The drainage of the land adjacent to the steel mill has become necessary because of the steel company's plan to build large new additions to the mill in the near future. This drainage is a knotty problem, as it entails an expense the city is not in a position to incur. It was finally decided that the only practical way was for the city to annex a part of the hill country north of town, which is the watershed drained through the low land in question, then form a drainage district to be assessed for the work to be done. As the preliminary steps will have to be taken up with the county supervisors, definite action by the city was laid over until a later meeting.

BALL GAME AT NEW PARK ENDS IN TIE

Oakland and Bernard McCaffery Posts
Cross Bats Opening New Park.

The big new athletic park at the South San Francisco high school was formally opened and dedicated Sunday afternoon. The ceremonies included an auto parade that started from the corner of Linden and Miller avenues and wound its way through the business section to the park, a flag raising at the park in charge of Commander Maurice Koop, and a baseball game between teams from the Oakland post of the American Legion and the local post. The game was an interesting one and resulted in a tie score of 18 to 18. It was marked by many good plays by individual players, but lack of team work on both sides. This was especially noticeable among the local boys. The Bernard McCaffery Post team has many good players in its personnel, but they have as yet had but little practice together. The Oakland team walked away with the first part of the game, but later the local men rallied and tied the score. Owing to a disagreement the Oakland team refused to play off the tie. Charles Storek acted as umpire.

The park is now complete, grandstand and all. The game and ceremony Sunday drew out a good crowd in spite of the cold, windy weather. A band was in attendance and played many selections during the parade and game.

THREE BOYS IN TOILS OF LAW FOR THEFT

YOUNGSTERS OF 12, 13, AND 16
GUILTY OF STARTLING THEFTS
IN S. S. F.; TOTAL LOOT VALUED AT HUNDREDS OF DOLLARS.

The mystery of the sensational series of robberies that occurred in South San Francisco recently has at last been solved. The three perpetrators of the outrages, boys of 16, 13, and 12 years, have been caught, and one of them is now in charge of the juvenile court and will probably be sent to reform school.

Four robberies to which the three have confessed were committed at the Poodle Dog Saloon, the Majestic Cafe, the Poppy Confectionery, and the Union gasoline station. The first three business houses were robbed in one night and cash to the value of over $100 secured. The same week the service station of the Union Oil Company was entered and auto tires and other merchandise to the value of nearly $700 taken.

At the time of these robberies it was apparent that one or more of the miscreants was slight in build, as all four places were entered through narrow windows.

Last Friday the three were placed under arrest by City Marshal Conrad, following their attempt to sell some stolen goods to a neighbor. Not wishing to place the three boys in jail, the officer released them pending their appearance in court next day. During the night the boys left town, leaving a note to the effect that they were going to New York. Monday the boys were seen in San Bruno. They were recognized by City Recorder Cluser and Postmaster Hughes and followed. The three took refuge in a large concrete drain and at first refused to come out. Mr. Hughes shouted into the big pipe that he had a pistol, and if they did not emerge would fire. The boys then came out. They were found to be armed with a rifle. The two younger boys, who are brothers, were returned to their home. The older boy, who was the ringleader, was turned over to the juvenile court. He has been in trouble before and will now be placed in a reform school.

Following its custom in such cases, this paper is not publishing the boys' names.

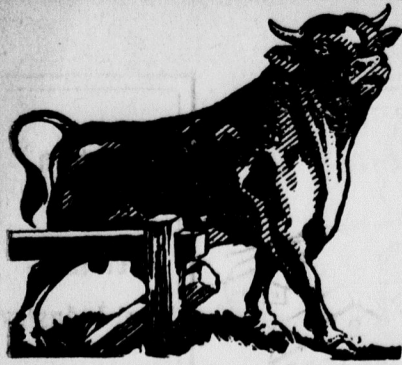

DR. MCGOVERN HAS NARROW ESCAPE IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Dr. J. C. McGovern is walking with a cane at present, having received a bad bruise on his left leg last Sunday when his auto took a plunge off a bridge over Higgins creek in the Higgins school district. Dr. McGovern was driving in a Ford near his summer home in the mountains. In the machine with him was Joe Gasper of this city. While driving across the steering gear "buckled" and the machine, out of control, ran off the bridge. It fell straight down for seventeen feet, then rolled to the bottom of the gully, fifth feet further down. When it first struck the doctor sprang out, dragging Gasper with him, and undoubtedly saved them both from serious injury or death. The bruise on his leg was the only injury McGovern suffered, his companion coming off unscathed. The machine was only slightly damaged.

GIVEN $5,000 DAMAGES AGAINST BUS COMPANY

A jury in the court of Superior Judge George E. Buck Monday brought in a verdict awarding the plaintiff $5000 in the case of Irving M. Ashcraft vs. Peninsular Rapid Transit Company.

Ashcraft, who is an advertising man, formerly had a contract with the bus company by which he was to place advertising cards in the buses of the company. This contract, he contended, was broken by the company, and he was refused permission to place the cards in the buses. He sued for $35,010, claiming that amount represented his loss.

Blue and White

Official Paper of the South San Francisco High School

Ray Spangler Editor

EDITORIAL

BACK AGAIN!

Well, well, our pleasant vacation has been rudely terminated by the failure of the senior class to put out an edition of the Blue and White. It was only at the last moment, too, that we were notified that the seniors could not put out an edition, and we were jolly well stumped for something to fill up our page with. But a good angel in the form of our postman (whom we all like until the first of the month, when he brings the bills), came to our rescue with a little booklet we've been looking for for a long time. It is a book of the minutes of the Student Body Presidents' convention that we attended last January. We have never fully reported on the convention, simply because we didn't have these minutes, and now that we've got them, we're publishing them as quickly as possible. Anyhow, they come in mighty handy, and give us a chance to frame something good for the next issue. We're planning a little criticism of each class edition of the Blue and White, and have stored up a little story, too.

In reading these minutes, you will learn what transpired at the convention, and we hope you will glean many valuable ideas from them that we can put over in this high school. As much of the minutes as our space will permit are printed. It is interesting to note that, according to the representation of the convention, the average high school of California has about 400 students; that three schools, Los Angeles, Long Beach, and San Diego, have about 2800 students in attendance; that the Pacific Grove high school is the smallest, with an attendance of 35; that there were some smaller and farther away schools represented than ourselves, and that no San Francisco schools were there. There were 112 delegates, representing 43,557 students, at this convention.

Resolutions

Following resolutions were read, discussed, and acted upon as below:

Resolution No. 1: Resolved, That from now on this convention shall meet during the month of February of each year. Carried.

2. Resolved, That in order to make the S. B. P. conference of the greatest benefit to the high schools of the entire state the awarding of the convention shall alternate between the northern and southern parts of California, to take effect in 1923. Carried.

Discussion as to where state divides was settled by Fresno delegate, who said the center of the state was an alley in Fresno.

3. Resolved, That the sixth annual convention of the S. P. B. of California high schools, representing 41,000 students, send to the State Board of Education a letter recommending that they pass a resolution urging every city board of education to approve of the presidents' convention. Approved unanimously.

4. Resolved, That each school print and present to each student body member a copy of the minutes and resolutions of every student body through the school medium of publicity. Carried unanimously.

5. Resolved, That all the minutes of the S. B. P. C. be printed and sent to every high school in California within two weeks after the closing session. Carried.

6. Resolved, That the student body executives of the California high schools be permitted to substitute student body work for an elective solid. This permission to be granted in senior year. This credit to be solid, recommended credit, authorized by principal of school. Carried unanimously.

7. Resolved, That all unsportsmanlike yells be abolished among the California high schools. Carried unanimously.

8. Resolved, That each school set a high standard of scholarship for the student body executive, and that he shall be selected from one of the two upper classes.

Problems of the Convention

The problems of a convention, co-operation, supporting all activities, and doing everything we can to promote self-government in all the schools of the state. Most of you sent back the questionnaires that we sent. I will read these and we will see what we have to cover.

First of importance was self-government, then school spirit, final problems, athletics, honor system, pins, elections, nomination speeches, etc., education of freshmen, and getting students interested in getting a higher education.

L. A. Poly.

Mr. President: Speaking of uniform dress in Poly, it has absolutely proven a success. Students who do not conform to law should suffer consequences. If they are given hours they should serve their hours. It is the business of the government to put this over. The same applies to a jury trial. If it is backed by students it can be a success. We must have co-operation.

Mr. Chairman: How do you go about getting this co-operation if you haven't it?

L. A. Poly.

Mr. President: The primary way to get this co-operation is to tell the students what you want and tell them you must have their co-operation or it isn't a success.

Manual Arts H. S.

Mr. President: The student body organization of Manual Arts has been running ever since Manual Arts started. We have co-operation of the students. Our self-government officers are elected from each class. They carry out the duties of the self-government. The self-government president for the boys and girls is elected by the student body. This year we have adopted one other office, the student body judge. He is to preside over cases and judge them. Trial by jury in our school has proven a great success. It is not thought of as a joke to have a jury. The jury was elected and was authorized to bring up students for various things. Our students take care of all tardy slips. They go to the desk and get them. If you haven't a written excuse from home you are given three nights. There is no way you can get out of these nights, and if they are not served they are doubled on you. The third time you are brought into the principal's office.

MUSHROOMS.

Mushrooms and some other fungous growths are highly prized as articles of food by many people. The nutritive value of mushrooms is low, but they may be prepared in various ways which render them delicious. More people doubtless would seek wild mushrooms and other fungi if they were sufficiently informed to distinguish between the edible and the deadly poisonous growths. Some very erratic and dangerous ideas concerning ways of telling the edible from the poisonous growths are altogether too commonly believed. Mushrooms are frequently thought of as edible and toadstools as poisonous. As a matter of fact, the United States Department of Agriculture states, the words "mushroom" and "toadstool" are used indiscriminately and do not indicate whether the plants are edible or poisonous.

Silver Coin Test Is Valueless

A test for poisonous mushrooms often recommended is based on the belief that if a silver coin placed in the utensil in which mushrooms are cooked tarnishes, the mushrooms are poisonous. Absolutely no reliance can be placed on this test, as both poisonous and edible kinds may turn silver dark. Equally baseless is the belief that a mushroom is shown to be edible if the skin can be peeled from the cap readily, because peeling is possible with many poisonous species. The notion that soaking or boiling poisonous mushrooms in salt water will render them harmless has no foundation in fact. Some people have thought that the presence of insects on mushrooms is a proof of their edibility. This is a dangerous supposition, because insects infest the most poisonous as well as the best edible species of fungi.

The collector of mushrooms can not depend upon any simple test. If he intends to use them for food, he must know what he is gathering. It is a comparatively simple matter to learn to recognize a few kinds of deadly mushrooms and certain edible ones. If he will gather only the kinds that are well known to him, a careful collector need not be afraid to gather wild fungi for food. He should not be misled by attractive colors or pleasant odors. In Farmers' Bulletin 796, Some Common and Poisonous Mushrooms, directions for identifying the poisonous and edible kinds are given.

Recipes for Cooking Mushrooms

According to the views of many persons, mushrooms are best cooked simply, with no seasoning but butter, pepper, and salt. The addition of various other seasonings impairs the delicate mushroom flavor. However, tastes differ, and the opportunity of choice or experiment is afforded by the recipes which follow:

The caps should be carefully washed, gill side down, but peeling is not always necessary and involves a considerable waste of time and loss of flavor. Unless the stems are extremely tough they can be used after being cut into small bits and stewed, or, even if tough, after long boiling they can be run through a sieve and made into a soup or sauce.

Wild mushrooms should be cooked soon after collecting, as they are then preserved much better than if kept uncooked, even in a refrigerator.

Fried Mushrooms

Beat the yolk of an egg with a tablespoonful of water and season with pepper and salt. Dip each cap in this and then dip in fine cracker crumbs or corn meal. Have butter or cooking oil very hot in a frying pan. Fry slowly on each side for five minutes. A sauce can be made by thickening with flour and adding milk or cream. If desired, serve on toast. A smooth tomato sauce is also excellent.

Mushrooms Baked With Tomatoes

In a baking dish arrange small round slices of buttered toast; upon each piece place a rather thin slice of peeled tomato, salted and peppered; upon each slice of tomato place a fine, thick mushroom, gill side up; in the center of each mushroom put a generous piece of butter; season with pepper and salt. Cover the dish and bake in a hot oven for ten minutes; then uncover and bake for an additional five to ten minutes, as the mushrooms appear to require.

Creamed Mushrooms

Cut the mushrooms into small pieces, stew slowly in butter until tender, add cream or milk, pepper and salt, and thicken with flour.

Peppers Stuffed With Mushrooms

Cut the stem end of the peppers and carefully remove all seeds and the white membrane; chop or break the mushrooms into small pieces, season with pepper and salt, press firmly into the peppers, and put a good-sized lump of butter on top of each. The water adhering to the mushrooms after washing will furnish sufficient moisture for their cooking.

Arrange the peppers on end in a baking dish, having water with salt, pepper, and butter poured in to the depth of about one inch. Place the dish in a hot oven, cook covered for fifteen minutes; then uncover and baste and cook for ten or fifteen minutes longer, or until the peppers are perfectly tender. An addition to the mushrooms of chopped cooked chicken or veal is a pleasing variation.

Mushrooms With Bacon

Fry the bacon, and on removing it from the frying pan keep it hot; cook the mushrooms on each side in the

"fryings" and serve on a platter with the strips of bacon arranged as a border.

Several species are good prepared in this manner, but it is especially well suited to the common cultivated mushroom.

THY LANTERN, DIOGENES!

He has been discovered! Diogenes, if he had lived today, would have searched for him, for he is of a type harder to find than an honest man. He is the policeman who will make an effort to run down "bootleggers" and "blindpiggers." But he has been discovered, and that, too, in San Francisco where, according to report, thoroughly honest and conscientious cops have always been rare birds.

More remarkable still, when found there were two of him! Their names are Charles Goff and Arthur D. Layne, and both are captains on the city force. All honor to them! Both believed that when they took the oath of their office it meant more than the wearing of a star and the drawing of a salary.

Here is what Layne says: "When I took my oath I raised my right hand and swore to uphold the Constitution of the United States. The Volstead act is now a part of that constitution."

Mayor Rolph says: "We should be proud we have such police officers. These two police captains are honest men. They are doing their duty as they see it."

When given a hearing in the city recently Captain Goff said, in part: "The bootleggers' nests are the rendezvous of criminals. They are the hang-outs for gangs, and in order to break up the gangs we have to destroy such places."

And some of the supervisors in San Francisco disapproved the officers' vigilance! This paper would say, Better watch those supervisors. They are no credit to their office. If San Francisco sees fit to let these officers out it would be a good idea to set them to work in South San Francisco. They would find plenty to do here.

Successful men invariably look the part. So does the tramp.

The fellow who plays a cornet is always a desirable neighbor—when he is asleep.

When lovers quarrel each thinks the other unpardonably slow at making up.

If all men would learn to sew on buttons before marriage it might save a lot of family jars.

It is wise to put your trust in God, but don't expect Him to dish up three meals a day while you loaf on the job.

When a new gown appeals to a woman it is easy for the saleslady to convince her it is a bargain.

When showing off before your friends talk in millions. The modern world has little use for a piker.

The man with a million is truly to be pitied. He has some genuine friends, but is never able to tell them from the false.

CARD OF THANKS.

Hours come into the lives of some when every impulse of the heart is buried under a weight of sorrow. We stand there today. Words utterly fail to voice our emotions in this darkest time of our lives. Yet in this time of deepest sorrow there is a ray of light as we think of the many, many kindnesses of the dear friends who have poured out assistance and sympathy to us following the death of our beloved son and husband. We can never express to you one-half the gratitude our stricken hearts would acknowledge. Your infinite kindness shall never be forgotten. God bless you all. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Hickey. Mrs. T. E. ORDER OF DE MOLAY TO BE ORGANIZED AT SAN MATEO

The preliminary work which has been going on for months by Masons of San Mateo county is to bear fruit at last in the form of the organization of Peninsula Chapter, Order of De Molay, for boys.

The Order of De Molay is being supported by 100 per cent American citizens regardless of party or creed, as it has for its primary object the inculcation of patriotism, right thinking and right living for the youth of the land. Membership is restricted to boys with Masonic connections and their chums, between the ages of 16 and 21 years.

While the active work, conferring of degrees, management of social affairs, etc., are in charge of the boys themselves, the governing body of the chapter is reposed in an advisory committee composed of Master Masons who are responsible, through the boys, for the proper conduct of the order in San Mateo county. This committee is composed of William Wilkins, Edward V. Mills, Frank Thrall, Charles M. Burrows, George A. Kertell, L. M. Best, R. C. Lee, E. T. Marcus, and W. H. Eddy.

Steps for the opening of this chapter are to be taken at a meeting to be held in Masonic Temple, San Mateo, next Monday evening at 6 o'clock. The regular organization of the chapter will be held the following Monday at Masonic Hall, San Mateo. All Master Masons are invited to both meetings.

Not Courting Publicity.

"What progress are you making?" asked the first "money digger."
"Our town went 'over the top,'" said the second "money digger."
"Fine! As chairman of the local committee you ought to receive a pair of cufflinks, a watch fob or something of that sort."
"I'm not looking for any presents. I'll be satisfied if nobody hands me a subpoena."

Research.

"What's them?" Inquired Farmer Cornstossel as his wife was preparing for the party.

"Those are olives."

"What are they good for?"

"Good to eat."

"What else? You can't tell me anything with a taste like that oughtn't to cure something."

A Grouch's Aversions.

"John," exclaimed the nervous woman, "I think there is a burglar in the house."

"Let him alone. There's nothing he could move out except the rubber tree and the phonograph, and if necessary I'll pay him a little something for his trouble."

The Difference.

"I made up my mind our boy Josh should have a fine education," remarked Farmer Cornstossel.

"And now he shows his superior knowledge."

"No. Josh doesn't know much more than I do. The only difference is that he uses longer words."

Influential Utterances.

"Did your campaign speeches have any real influence?"

"I won't say they changed the minds of many auditors," admitted Senator Sorghum. "But I am depending on them to give me the benefit of a favorable impression on the minds of the incoming officials."

Looking Ahead.

Mr. Multitox—I can't promise you a very merry life as my wife. Me, as an old man, with one foot in the grave. Miss Mainchance—Oh, that's all right. I'll make up for it when your other foot slips.

Term.

"I believe in term marriage."
"Well, dearie, I wish to defer to your ideas. Let's make it for 99 years, as the leases say."

Her Point of View.

Maud—Can anything be worse than a man who will get sentimental in spite of all you can do?
Edith—Yes, a man who won't.

BESSOLO GETS IN BAD WITH RED BLUFF STOCKHOLDERS

W. L. Bessolo, well and unfavorably known in this city, where he has been in several shady deals, is in trouble in Red Bluff, Calif. Recently Bessolo went to the northern city and floated a company to manufacture wrenches and tools of his designing. Previous to that time Bessolo and his associates had tried to locate a factory for the same purpose in South San Francisco, but had not been given any encouragement here. In Red Bluff they were received with open arms, stock taken in the company and a factory built. Now word has reached Red Bluff from many different places where Bessolo has been in trouble, and the progress on the establishment of his factory is at a standstill. Among other things learned, according to a story published in the Red Bluff newspaper last week, is that Bessolo was sentenced to the penitentiary in 1917 from Wallace, Idaho, for fraudulent dealings. South San Francisco residents who knew Bessolo and some of his activities here will not be surprised at these developments.

was every natural advantage to be found here, including people of the highest intelligence, but that heretofore there had been a lack of co-operation.

Dr. Rastall was followed by President J. J. McGrath of the Three Cities Chamber of Commerce and by Manager Imboden of the same organization. Imboden declared he was convinced that San Mateo county could support a population of 150,000 and would eventually do so.

Mayor A. S. W. Grundy of San Bruno addressed the meeting, being introduced by George Hughes, secretary of the San Bruno Chamber. Mr. Grundy directed his remarks principally to the need of better transportation facilities from peninsula points to the city. He made a strong talk and was well applauded.

P. R. Thompson, president of the Civic League of Improvement Clubs of San Francisco and also a member of the South San Francisco Chamber, was called upon and spoke on the subject of the difficulties the local Chamber has had with the Southern Pacific Company. He also told of the hope of securing a federal appropriation for the dredging of a channel down the bay along the peninsula.

Judge E. E. Cunningham and W. J. Martin, two of this city's best-known citizens, gave short talks, after which the meeting broke up.

Representatives were present from the following daily newspapers: News-Leader of San Mateo, the Chronicle, the Bulletin, the Examiner, the Call and the Commercial News of San Francisco.

Dr. Rastall arrived in South San Francisco early in the afternoon. After being met by a reception committee of business men he was shown about over the city. At 6 o'clock a dinner was given for about fifty Chamber of Commerce members and visitors at the Industrial Club. During the repast Dr. F. S. Dolley, president of the club, gave a short talk on the club and its object.

These fees will now stand at $6 for horses, cows, and mules, and $2 for smaller animals, goats, hogs, etc. The charges for feeding animals taken up are set at $1 a day for the larger ones and 30 cents a day for the smaller ones. The original ordinance was passed in August of 1917.

An application for the position of electrical inspector was received from J. D. Raudebaugh.

An application was received from St. Michael's Lodge for permission to hold dances Sundays for lodge members. As the application stated no admission was to be charged at these dances, the board did not take action, as no permission is necessary where no admission charge is made.

The report of City Treasurer E. P. Kauffmann for the month of April was read and filed.

Current bills against the city were audited and ordered paid as approved.

GAERDES FINDS HARD TIMES
PREVAILING IN GERMANY

Herman Gaerdes, one of the pioneer merchants of South San Francisco and for many years proprietor of the Baden Cash Store here, returned recently from a seven months' stay in Germany, during which time he visited many districts of his native land. Mr. Gaerdes stated that he found hard times prevailing in Germany, caused chiefly because of the seizure of ships, coal, cattle and machinery by the allies. Food cards issued by the government are in use in the purchase of certain kinds of provisions, notably butter and flour. As an indication of the scarcity of butter, this card states that the equal of one-tenth of a pound of butter is allowed to be purchased every thirteen days. Meat, brought in from other European countries, is fairly plentiful. Mr. Gaerdes states that he is convinced the common people would not welcome a return of the Hohenzollern monarchy. Taxes are at present very high.

258 Grand Avenue Phone 138JUNIOR CLASS TO PRESENT
FARCE "AFTER THE GAME"

The junior class of the South San Francisco high school is to present a farce, "After the Game," Friday evening, May 27th, in the high school auditorium. The cast has been working under Miss Clifford's direction for the last month, and the play is rapidly approaching perfection.
Grace Robinson, as Nancy Norris, has the lead. She takes the part of a grave senior, and makes a very charming Cinderella to the Prince.
Alice Wallace plays the part of Betty, another senior. She is Nan's most intimate friend.
Marguerite Kiessling is Jane, the maid, and is the most humorous character in the farce. She is full of misinformation about football. Anna Smith as Dixie and Ruth McMillan as Kit are jolly, fun-loving college girls.
Haydn McMillan plays Jack Morton, halfback on the varsity and incidentally the Prince. About him centers the action.

The public must see the finished production in order to fully appreciate the college life it portrays. Fudge parties, Halloween stunts, and football games abound.

ENJOYABLE WHIST PARTY HELD BY YEOMEN LODGE

The whist party given by the local lodge of Yeomen Wednesday evening resulted in a large gathering and a very pleasant evening was spent. The prizes were won by the following in the order named: Opal Davis, Mrs. Kent of San Bruno, John Coward, Mrs. B. McNellis and Mrs. Charles Kennett. Mrs. F. Murray won the consolation prize. After the game refreshments were served by the ladies of the lodge.
